Prepare Your Peachtree Data Before Migration

A successful conversion starts with preparation. Review your Peachtree company file and check whether there are duplicate customers, inactive vendors, outdated accounts, or incorrect balances.

It is also recommended to make a backup before making any major changes. If you need assistance understanding the preparation process, 📞 +1 866-661-1860 is available for migration-related guidance.

Steps to Convert Peachtree to QuickBooks

Step 1: Review the Existing Company File

Start by reviewing your Peachtree company file. Identify the company information, accounting period, chart of accounts, customers, vendors, transactions, and other records that need to be retained.

A detailed review helps determine whether the existing file is ready for conversion or requires cleanup first.

Step 2: Create a Backup

Always create a secure backup of your original Peachtree data before beginning the migration. Store the backup separately so that the original information remains available for reference.

If you are uncertain about backup or migration preparation,  +1 866-661-1860 can provide general guidance.

Step 3: Check Software Compatibility

Different versions of Peachtree and QuickBooks may have different conversion requirements. Check the software versions and available migration options before proceeding.

Compatibility should be considered before attempting to move your accounting records. For help reviewing your migration requirements, call  +1 866-661-1860.

Step 4: Convert or Import the Data

Step 5: Review the QuickBooks Company File

After the migration, review the new QuickBooks company file carefully. Check account balances, customer records, vendor information, invoices, bills, transactions, and other important accounting data.

Compare important reports from the old system with the converted QuickBooks data whenever possible. This helps identify information that may require further review.

Common Challenges During Peachtree to QuickBooks Migration

While many businesses can successfully migrate accounting information, conversion may involve challenges. Differences between accounting platforms can affect how certain records, fields, transactions, or reports are handled.

Some common areas requiring attention include:

- Different chart-of-accounts structures
- Duplicate customer or vendor records
- Unsupported fields

- Transaction formatting differences
- Historical data requirements
- Opening balance discrepancies
- Inventory-related information
- Payroll-related records
- Report formatting differences

If you notice inconsistencies after migration, do not immediately modify the original Peachtree file. First, compare the records and determine where the difference originated. You can also contact 📞 +1 866-661-1860 for assistance in reviewing the migration process.
